Re: H&M Property Services

To whom it may concern

Over the last six months, H&M Property Services have carried out a number of refurbishments jobs for me in two separate properties. In a semi-detached house they turned a large bedroom into two separate rooms, as well as undertaking general refurbishments in the house and making good where necessary; they also carried out a full re-wiring of the property. In a one bedroom flat, H&M Property Services recently completed a full overhaul of the electric services as well as installing a new electric shower.

I have found H&M Property Services a pleasure to deal with. They have always responded promptly to requests for quotes and I have found it easy to contact them and to obtain a quick response where necessary. They carried out the work to a high standard and all jobs were completed on time and as per the original agreed price. Accordingly, I am very happy with the work carried out by H&M Property Services and I have no hesitation in recommending them to others.
